DAY-BY-DAY ITINERARY

Negombo - Dambulla - Bandarawela - Tangalle - Galle - Bentota - Colombo

Expressions

Day one: Arrive in Colombo and continue to Negombo

Arrive in Colombo and meet your personal chauffeur guide who will be your travelling companion throughout your tour of Sri Lanka. Drive to the chic and contemporary Jetwing Beach for one night in Negombo (approximately 20 minutes drive). This hotel was originally designed by Geoffrey Bawa and since renovated in 2004. Negombo, set amid lush groves of coconut palms, breathes the spirit of the sea. The town itself shows its interesting colonial past with many historical buildings.

Day two: Negombo to Dambulla

After breakfast in the hotel, drive to the Heritance Kandalama in Dambulla (approximately 5 hours), another great work by Geoffrey Bawa in the Cultural Triangle. The hotel is built into a mountainside, surrounded by jungle and overlooking the Kandalama tank (lake). The simple geometry and lack of decoration of the building helps to identify the natural environment. When Bawa first built the hotel, he said that one day it would peer out from under a canopy of lush vegetation, which is exactly how it appears today. Spend the rest of the day at leisure enjoying your surroundings.

Day three: Sigiriya

In the morning, visit Sigiriya rock fortress - a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Sigiriya was built in the 5th century during the reign of King Kasyapa and is probably the most fantastic wonder of Sri Lanka. It is also known as Lion Rock because of the huge lion that used to stand at the entrance to the Palace on the summit of the 600-foot rock.

Day four: Dambulla to Bandarawela

After breakfast, drive to Bandarawela (approximately 6 hours). En route you could opt to do some sightseeing in the hill capital city of Kandy. During the drive, enjoy the endless views of tea-carpeted valleys, processing factories and the bright flash of female 'tea pluckers' in their saris picking their way through the plantations. Stop at a tea factory where the process of tea producing and grading will be explained. You will also be able to taste a cup of pure Ceylon tea in the factory. Check-in to the 1920s colonial planter's Kirchhayn Bungalow for two nights.

Tea Country

Day five: Bandarawela

Visit the granite built Bandarawela Chapel of the Good Shepherd's Convent, designed by Geoffrey Bawa and Ulrik Plesner. The chapel sits on a ridge above the town and consists of a solid hulk of rubble masonry culminating in a square tower which acts as the skylight for the altar. Spend the rest of the day at leisure doing some trekking around the area and enjoying the views.

Day six: Bandarawela to Tangalle

From the hills of Bandarawela descend to Tangalle on the coast (approximately 6 hours). En route admire one of Sri Lanka's finest views and visit the Rawana Ella Falls. The dramatic Rawana Ella Falls are 49 metres high with water cascading down the mountainside in a series of mini waterfalls. On arrival in Tangalle, check in to the Last House, which is the last property built by Geoffrey Bawa in Sri Lanka. This luxury seaside escape's airy, antique-filled interiors spill into al fresco spaces as if no boundaries exist.

Day seven: Tangalle

Visit Fitzherbert House, which is now known as Claughton House, in Dickwella (approximately 30 minutes). This too is a great work of Bawa's. Spend the rest of the day at leisure enjoying some time at the beach and the hotel facilities.

Day eight: Tangalle to Galle

Drive this morning to the colonial city of Galle (approximately 2 hours). En route, drop by another of Bawa's works - the Ruhunu University Campus and the Matara Office building. Check-in to the Jetwing Lighthouse, an architectural triumph of Geoffrey Bawa, where you will be spending the night. In the afternoon, enjoy some sightseeing in Galle Fort. Its rich heritage is derived from the colonial influences of the Portuguese, Dutch and the British respectively, spanning four centuries. The town's centrepiece is the Dutch Fort, around which the city is built. The Fort remains a hive of activity and is one of the few World Heritage listed sites in which a bustling population continues to thrive.

Day nine: Galle to Bentota

After breakfast, drive to Bentota (approximately 2 hours), visiting Heritance Ahungalla en route, where Bawa created features such as interconnecting expanses of water leading the guest into the hotel. Spend two nights at boutique hotel, Club Villa, a 19th century Dutch Colonial villa re-designed by Bawa in 1980.

Day ten: Bentota

Spend the morning at leisure, perhaps with some time on the beach enjoying the water sports on offer. For afternoon tea, visit Geoffrey Bawa's country residence Lunuganga where you will find that nature has been incorporated in the very design of the house. Return to Club Villa for the night.

Day eleven: Bentota to Colombo

In the morning drive to the commercial capital of Colombo (approximately 2 hours). En route stop at Blue Waters in Wadduwa, designed by Geoffrey Bawa. Check-in to Park Street for the night. Spend the rest of your day at leisure in Colombo, enjoying some sightseeing and shopping. It may be possible to visit one of the world's leading tea auctions, an 18 hole Golf Course or seasonal Buddhist and Hindu pageants. In the evening visit Number 11, the residence of Geoffrey Bawa.

Day twelve: Departure from Colombo

After breakfast, leave for the airport for your onward flight.

OPTIONAL

It is possible to add extra nights in the south of Sri Lanka, perhaps in Galle.

HOTELS

Our selection of hotels in Negombo, Dambulla, Bandarawela, Tangalle, Galle, Bentota, and Colombo are described below.

NEGOMBO

Jetwing Beach

Nestling between palm trees along a charming stretch of beach on Sri Lanka's west coast, Jetwing Beach was the first hotel in Negombo to become a member of Small Luxury Hotels of the World. The cool, contemporary architecture of Jetwing Beach complements the natural environment whilst allowing guests to relax in luxury, with minimalist interiors in the bedrooms and suites creating bright and unfussy surroundings. Originally designed by Geoffrey Bawa, the Jetwing Beach was renovated entirely in 2004. Large glass doors open onto a private balcony or terrace that overlooks the sea, an attractive feature of each room, and the suites benefit from butler service. Set in lush tropical gardens, Jetwing Beach hotel also has tennis courts and an outdoor swimming pool. A professional water sports centre, scuba diving and windsurfing are available nearby and safaris and game drives can be organised on request. The spa at Jetwing Beach has two treatment rooms and a steam room, and there is an Ayurvedic centre with a selection of traditional treatment programmes at its sister hotel, Ayurveda Pavilions. International and local cuisine is served in the Sands Restaurant, which is open 24 hours and is partly open air. Alternatively, the fine dining restaurant, Black Coral, is open in the evenings. After dinner, relax with a cocktail or a glass of wine at the Terrace Bar, overlooking the hotel's grounds. Jetwing Beach is in an excellent location for exploring the surrounding area: the fishing town of Negombo with its churches, temples and mosques, Dutch fort and colourful local shops, the nearby Murhurajawala marshlands and the Dutch Canal. DAMBULLA, CULTURAL TRIANGLE

Heritage Kandalama

Heritage Kandalama Hotel is a masterpiece of modern resort luxury that blends seamlessly with its natural environment, amidst the dramatic scenery of the Cultural Triangle. Spread along the edge of an escarpment facing Kandalama Tank (lake), with views to Sigiriya Rock, this 152- bedroomed resort hotel is built in the form of the outspread wings of a bird between two rocks and appears to be a natural extension of the mountainside. In this inspiring synergy with nature, vegetation grows along the walls, bats swoop in and out of open corridors and monkeys play on the branches outside your balcony. The accommodation at Heritage Kandalama embodies the architectural genius of Geoffrey Bawa. Arranged in the two 'wings', every room is set at a different angle to its neighbours and has its own private balcony, some affording views of the rock fortress of Sigiriya. The glass fronted bathrooms make you feel as if you are a part of the picturesque natural landscape. These 152 timber-panelled and designer decorated rooms range from Superior to the ultra luxury Royal Suite offering a choice of bathrooms fitted with luxurious rain showers, bathtubs or Jacuzzis. The renowned Heritage chefs combine the best traditions of international cuisine with a Sri Lankan touch, using local and organic ingredients to achieve optimal nutritional value. The large, air-conditioned Kanchana restaurant on the 6th floor serves sumptuous buffets or set menus, whilst on the 7th floor the 'Kashyapa' offers a la carte and the 'Kalu Diya' romantic fine dining. All three restaurants have beautiful panoramic views, so enjoy your meal and sip a glass of wine while feasting your eyes on Kandalama Lake, the forests and Sigiriya rock silhouetted against the distant horizon. At Heritage Kandalama, there is something for everyone to enjoy. The Six Senses spa offers a range of spa treatments from around the world; indoors there's a library, table tennis and games and there are three outdoor swimming pools - a favourite amongst guests is one of Bawa's ingenious concepts, the sapphire blue infinity pool which appears to fall into the water of the Kandalama Lake. 'Siripala' (a traditional flutist from the village) plays his flute in the evenings on the rock just by it. In the 50 acres of grounds you can play tennis, learn about the ecosystem in the eco-park, marvel at the scenery and wildlife from atop an elephant, or on horseback, or take a guided walk along one of the nature trails. BANDARAWELA, TEA COUNTRY

Kirchhayn Bungalow

Kirchhayn is the 1920s colonial planter's bungalow of Aislaby tea estate, surrounded by its own 50 acres of manicured tea slopes and sprawling gardens in the secluded highlands around Bandarawela. Having remained in the hands of the founding Bostock family until a few years ago, Kirchhayn gives guests first hand experience of the old traditions and tea plantation life. This is a world of croquet on the lawn and evening log fires in the living room. Start your day with divine home-grown 'bed tea' and enjoy breakfast in the bedroom, dining room or the garden patio. Egg or string hoppers and home-made passion fruit jam are on the list of 'must try'. The chefs at Kirchhayn can also serve Sri Lankan curry, light lunches or a western three-course dinner with choice. Most of the ingredients are sourced from the estate's own fruit and vegetable garden and small farm. Your days can drift by in and around Kirchhayn, participating in gentle activities such as croquet, mini-golf and a walk around the tea estate to a scenic viewpoint called Bostock Seat. Several endemic species of birds can be seen around the gardens. All five bedrooms at Kirchhayn bungalow are traditionally furnished, spacious and on ground floor level. read more

TANGALLE

The Last House

The Last House is a quaint and colourful Sri Lankan house beside the sparsely populated Mawella Beach in Tangalle. Designed by architect Geoffrey Bawa, The Last House is a fine example of local and traditional seaside dwellings, with striking yellow walls and turquoise door and window shutters oozing charm. Accommodating up to 14 guests in six bedrooms, it can be rented exclusively as a whole, or guests can choose to mix with other travellers for more social gatherings. From tropical gardens, a sandy pathway leads onto a secluded stretch of golden sand beside the Indian Ocean, but homely accommodation makes the most of the natural setting with plenty of open-air living spaces. A timber-framed, two-storey building, natural light and seaside breezes are exploited on large verandas which are perfect for sheltered relaxation day or night. At its heart is an interior garden with outdoor pool surrounded by sun loungers and blossom-strewn trees. To suit the vibrant external walls, interiors are filled with an eccentric mixture of clashing colours and fabrics, and there is an interesting mix of contemporary and antique decorative features. The centre of communal life at The Last House is the dining experience; evening meals are prepared by a local chef and served at a single dinner table, but the kitchen is also open for guests to help themselves throughout the day. Whether you book the house as a whole or one of the six guestrooms alone, your accommodation will be unique, colourful and full of the simplicity of beachside life. The most luxurious offering is the Cinnamon Hill Suite on the upper floor with sea and garden views and a large balcony which is perfect for private dining. read more

GALLE

Jetwing Lighthouse

Jetwing Lighthouse sits atop a small rocky promontory commanding superb views across the blue waters of the Indian Ocean just two kilometres from the town of Galle, whose historic Dutch fort was the inspiration for the architecture of the hotel. This architectural triumph of Sri Lankan architect, Geoffrey Bawa, is minimalist and elegant, dramatic and entirely captivating. The long walls and tall colonnades, in whitewash and 'Samara' yellow, give the Jetwing Lighthouse a pleasant coolness, in contrast to the tropical heat outdoors. A magnificent spiral stairway rises around the rotunda of the building and along the length of its railing is a sweeping tableau in brass and copper recalling ancient local history. Outside the Jetwing Lighthouse hotel, an angular swimming pool dominates an upper patio bordered by the poolside bar and café. From here, steps lead down to an expansive lawn strewn with loungers and parasols and another inviting deep blue swimming pool, looking onto a palm-fringed sandy beach. A heavenly Spa nestles in a corner by the beach, catching the sea breeze. In the evening, the restful atmosphere of the Coat of Arms bar with its splendid batik ceiling beckons for an aperitif, followed by dinner in the Cinnamon Room or Cardamon Café. Seafood and fondues are amongst the Head Chef's specialities and for ultimate romance you can dine amongst the rocks. The 60 deluxe bedrooms at Jetwing Lighthouse are spacious and elegant, with enormous wooden-framed beds and soft linen sheets. Teak writing desks are positioned underneath picture windows which frame a view of the Indian Ocean. For unique décor and extra space, go for one of the three themed Suites – revealing Bawa's take on Arabic, Chinese or Dutch style. Daytimes at the Jetwing Lighthouse can be spent relaxing by the pool or beach, exercising in the gym, enjoying a massage at the tranquil Spa or exploring historic Galle Fort and the nearby beaches and countryside. Club Villa, Bentota

BENTOTA

Club Villa

Nestled amidst a coconut plantation, just metres from the beach, the unpretentious Club Villa encourages its guests to relax and treat it like home. Re-designed in 1980 by renowned architect, Geoffrey Bawa, this 19th century Dutch colonial villa blends traditional period design with post-modern touches. As you wander through the discreet entrance to Club Villa and through the leafy corridors, decorated with stone columns and shallow pools filled with jumping catfish, a unique collection of colonial antique pieces sits harmoniously alongside modern art. The tropical walkways open onto a huge lawn dotted with mudilla trees and hammocks draped between palms. Occasionally, a Colombo-Galle train rattles by at the end of the garden, but does not destroy the sense of tranquility of the villa's grounds. Beyond the railway line and a row of vegetation lies a long stretch of sandy beach, presenting the perfect setting for watching the sun dip into the Indian Ocean. The menu offers a fusion of European specialities and traditional Sri Lankan cuisine, using fresh seafood and local spices, especially romantic when served by candlelight in the tropical gardens. The 15 rooms of Club Villa scattered around the grounds are simple and spacious, with Dutch colonial furniture and flashes of rich jewel colours from the hand-woven batiks and murals hung on whitewashed walls. Guests at Club Villa can venture out on local excursions to a mask-making factory or a turtle hatchery, try scuba diving or water sports, or simply relax by the pool and enjoy the laid-back luxury of doing nothing at all. The two plush suites are resplendent with original teak floors and antique furniture, each having their own sitting room and patio garden. Combine a few nights on the beach with stays in the Kandy Hills, in the Cultural Triangle, on a high tea estate or in a national wildlife park, in Galle, Negombo, or Colombo. It makes sense to factor in a night or two in Colombo, Negombo, Wadduwa, or at the Wallawwa near the airport, at the beginning and/or end of your holiday to coincide with flight times.

REGIONS OF SRI LANKA

Roughly only half the size of England, yet packed with a whole continent's worth of temples, ruins, wildlife reserves, and luxury beach resorts, Sri Lanka is a beautiful, bite-sized slice of paradise offering a whole world of diverse escapes. Littered with elegant colonial hotels and enchanting boutique lodges, Sri Lanka also offers luxury at a relative snip. Young or old, family or couple, beach-bound or culture-vulture – a visit to Sri Lanka satisfies everyone. Formerly an Arab trading port, the commercial capital Colombo is a bustling, colourful town, with a fabulous bazaar, colonial churches, and craft markets. To the north of Colombo lies Negombo and the beaches of the west coast, whilst to the south Wadduwa is the start of a string of fabulous beaches running all the way down and around Sri Lanka's southwest coast, with a collection of intimate, exquisite beach resorts. Further southward lies historic Galle, a reminder of the Dutch presence on the island. Inviting as Sri Lanka's coastline is, however, the island's interior is worth the airfare alone, with forest parks sheltering leopards and wild Asian elephants, a verdant hill country carpeted in tea plantations with lovely boutique planter's house hotels, and no visitor to Sri Lanka should be allowed to miss the Cultural Triangle, boasting five UNESCO World Heritage Sites in an area no bigger than Kent. New to tourism is the north and north east of Sri Lanka, strewn with Hindu temples, colonial gems and long white beaches offering spectacular snorkelling.

THINGS TO SEE IN SRI LANKA

Cricket is a national sport, played on every dusty maidan and patch of grass from Jaffna to Galle. A real highlight of any trip to the south is Galle Fort, where you can wander round the ancient ramparts at sunset, watching cricket games below, or stroll along the narrow streets in search of antiques in tiny, friendly shops. Local festivals such as Vesak full moon in May and Poson full moon in July, as well as the famous Esala Festival in Kandy in July and August, when Buddha's tooth is taken out from the temple and paraded through the streets. Visiting national parks, sheltering an abundance of wildlife including leopards, elephants, bears and hundreds of species of birds. Buying tea, gems, jewellery, spices for a local bazaar. Fantastic spicy local cuisine, specialising in fish dishes, and delicious 'egg hoppers.' Tea-tasting in the hill country. Sigiriya Rock Fortress. The Cave temples of Dambulla. The medieval capital and ruins of Polonnaruwa. The sacred city of Anuradhapura. The west coast beaches flanked by palm trees, including Negombo, Beruwela, Bentota and Galle. The elephant orphanage at Pinnawela. The tea plantations near Nuwara Eliya, a region known locally as Little England. Ayurvedic massage. A warm welcome wherever you go.
